 i couldn't sleep, i could barely breathe
 E A/F# E A/F#
 my son was bracing for a coming freeze
 E A/F# E A/F#
 a wilderness wind, a flood of fright did ever he doubt my love that night?

light a match, you can start a flame don't die cold even if you die blamed did you hug your knees? did you cry when you realized you'd never be here again?

run away, try to disappear this, you thought, would end a world of fears hunkered down, trenches dug neither of us giving ground, neither willing to budge you left one day but you never wrote your mother worried herself sick that she nearly broke we should've had it out and resolved our feud but instead you died here starving on bus, instead you died here starving on bus 152

you ran away from me i didn't go after you demands don't bring pennance
 A E A E
 like i thought they would

A E A E
 don't let summer mild deceive you A E F E (INTRO)
 you can change your name but you can't change the truth you can never change the truth.....
